

A MITEL E-BOOK

3 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD ADD COLLABORATION TOOLS TO YOUR MITEL MIVOICE BUSINESS SYSTEM

1

Fortify Your Communication Strategy

Your MiVoice Business System is the centre of your communications infrastructure, but as technology has changed and employee needs have grown the number of apps being used has grown as well. Now is a great time to strengthen your communications strategy by replacing disjointed tools with integrated solutions that seamlessly connect to your existing infrastructure.

2

Supercharge Team Interactions

With the growth of mobile and home-based employees, businesses have an ever increasing need to connect and collaborate with team members anytime and anywhere.

MiCollab is a communications and collaboration tool that aligns with your MiVoice Business system to help improve the speed & quality of decisions being made in your organization by providing employees with everything they need to connect, communicate and collaborate with others seamlessly from anyplace, at any time, all in a single application

Whether it's from their desktop or mobile device, with MiCollab employees can easily share information and tap into the knowledge of others across the organization, no matter where they are located.

Make the Most of Every Meeting

To make meetings more productive Mitel has delivered MiTeam Meetings, a multi-party video solution designed for continuous collaboration in a persistent virtual workspace that connects voice, video, and chat.

MiTeam Meetings is seamlessly integrated into the existing Mitel infrastructure via MiCollab. Meetings are more productive when employees can transition between chat, voice and video seamlessly on a single cloud application. For your workers to be successful, they need to continuously collaborate as a team, by leveraging a workspace as if they are in the same room, where they can meet, share ideas face to face, capture notes, store files and return when they next meet as a group.

You've already chosen Mitel for your business communications, now see how Mitel can deliver an integrated collaboration experience that brings voice, chat, video and team collaboration into a single solution from a single trusted provider.
